I. INTRODUCTION (Purpose and Intent)

The Center for Counseling, Health & Wellness (CCHW) supports the holistic development of the University of South Florida St. Petersburg (USFSP) community by providing a comprehensive array of professional services. Our goal is to strengthen the intellectual, social and emotional functioning of our community, with an emphasis on collaboration, prevention, and wellness. The CCHW is also committed to creating a safe, inclusive, and affirming environment, which includes providing culturally appropriate services, culturally relevant training, increased accessibility, and quality service delivery.

This is accomplished by providing the following services: assessment and referrals; preventive and educational programming; psychological and psychiatric treatment; substance abuse prevention services; pre-doctoral practicum counselor training; consultation services for campus departments and community stakeholders; and professional contributions and service to the public and private sectors of the community. For a detailed description of all our services, please visit

C. PROCEDURES:

USFSP students may expect to be evaluated at any time during normal business hours through a prescheduled appointment or a walk-in emergency appointment. Based on this evaluation, students may be offered the option of participating in any of our time-limited services/programs or, on some occasions, may be provided appropriate external referrals. As the Center is a training site, some students may be treated by a staff member under supervision.

Clinical records maintained within the Center for Counseling, Health, & Wellness are monitored by the Center's professional staff who utilize an electronic medical records system. Issues of confidentiality, privacy, content, and security regarding psychological records are enforced by state and national rules, laws and standards that regulate psychology as a discipline, relevant accreditation boards (the International Association of Counseling Services, the American Psychological Association), the USF System Information Disclosure and Confidentiality Policy, the Ethical Principles of Psychologists (Principle 5: Privacy and Confidentiality); Chapter 490, Florida Statutes and Chapter 64B19, F.A.C.
